Yet again, the Guild of Erotic Artists have proved their worth and produced a stunningly beautiful book highlighting the many diverse talents, skills, disciplines and gifts of its members. This is the second volume and a third is already being planned. Thirty-two of the Guild's members are showcased in this volume and with 200 pages of stunning erotic art, photography and sculpture it really is a treasure trove of the very best in modern erotica. The layout and printing are of the highest quality and the production team (all members of the Guild) are to be roundly applauded for creating such a wonderful portfolio. There is a brief detailed introduction to the Guild (for those who don't know who they are), and then it is straight into the work of the contributors, with not a single page or area of space wasted. This is a delightful book which would as happily grace the coffee tables of the well-heeled and well-to-do, as it would enhance the literature collection of the true erotic art collector and connoisseur. Leafing through this veritable feast of stunning art there is little room for doubt that the Guild is flourishing and is now at the very forefront of leading the revival of high quality erotica in all its shapes and forms. It is now high time the mainstream art world sat up and took notice - hopefully this book will enlighten them!
