

“Temptation”
Sexy Art comes to London!
1-6 October 2013

The Strand Gallery, 32 John Adam Street,
London WC2N 6BR

“Temptation” is an art exhibition featuring The Guild of Erotic Artists. It will open at The Strand Gallery, London on 1st October 2013 ending on 6th October 2013.

The human body is a sensual area whichever way it is depicted. Artists over the centuries have allowed their freedom of expression to portray the male and female body in a variety of styles. Everyone has an inner beauty and through art and photography this is brought to life.

“Temptation” is how it should be; the artwork on show is designed to tempt you; a bit naughty but not smutty, artistic but not pornographic; A glimpse into the world of real figurative art.

The Guild of Erotic Artists is a world renowned organisation bringing the best portrayers of sensual, figurative art to the fore. Founded in 2002, it brought together established and emerging erotic artists together as one voice to promote freedom of expression. This exhibition brings together 37 of them with probably the largest display of figurative art in London for years.
